cracking and falling in rapid succession, when of a sudden the roof fell in with a noise like a clap of thunder. The flames, on the roof falling, mounted so high into the air asto be visible for miles distant, and by 10 ciclook every part of the establishment was reduced to a heap of smoking ruins. Mrs. Connorton the proprietress of the building, was insured for machinery, wardrobe and the theatrs in the Phoenix and Monarch Fire Offices.

Messra. Elphinatone and Neale, the present leases, who have lost a vast quantity of property by the disastrous event, were rot insured for a slogle benny. As to the origin of the minortune nothing that could be depended upon could be ascertained. The previous night a piece called the "Red Crow" was performed, which terminsted with the burning of the Robin Hood Tavern, and it is not unlikely that some of the burning embers may have remained amouldering during the right. An immense crowd assembled near the fire, and it required a powerful body of police to keep a way clear for the firemen. By 6 o'cleck the following evening the firemen succeeded in gatting the ruins suificiently cooled to allow an inspection to be made of the remaining portions of the premises, for the purpose of traving out, if possible, the precise cause of the outbreak. So extensively, however, was everything within the walls burnt, that it was impossible to tell how or in what part of the theatre the fire commenced. The whole of the performers employed on the establishment have lost their wardrobes, which show will amount to a considerable sum, and, what is still worse, none of the artistes or others employed in the theatre were insured, and many, having large families dependent upon them for support, will suffer to no little extent. We understand that Mr. Douglas, the respected proprietor of the Great National Standard treatre, Shore-titch, and some other managers, intend to get up benefits in aid of the families os the burnt out performers. LONDON MONEY MARKET.

FEDAY EVENING, FERRUARY 15.—The notice from the Chancellor of the Exchequer announcing the intention of government to raise a lean, as well as to fund a nortion of the floating debt, and inviting the attendance of capitalists at the Treasury next Monday, when the terms will be communicated, was received at the Stock Exchange this morning, at about a quarter past II, and took every one by surpriss. The funding of Exchequer bills had been fully anticipated, but the raising of a loan, although considered certain in the course of the spring, was wholly unexpected at the present moment. Consols, which left off yesserday with much heaviness at 92, had opened at 61% to 34, and immediately on the appearance of the notice they declined to 91. Large sales were then actively pressed, and the downward movement continued until the price touched 90, from which there was scarcely any recevery, the final transactions being at 90 to 34 for money, and 904 to 34 for the account. The greatest eagerness was manifested throughout the day to learn the amount intended to be asked for, and a variety of conjectures were circulated on the subject. Some persons endeavored to create a belief that the loan will be for £20,060,060, besides a funcing of £9,000,000 of exchequer bills; but an impression subsequently gained ground that the total will be altogether mederate, and that, although the government deem it expedient, better the commencement of the Peace Conferences, to provide for all immediate wants, so as to complete the strength of thair position, they entertain sufficient confidence to defer any further arrangements until a later period. The intended funding preduced a good effect upon exchequer bills, in which India bonds participated, the last quotations for both being 5s, discount at par

Owing to some sales of stock having been effected immediately at the opening of the market this morning, a statement was afterwards circulated that some knowledge of the intended announcement of the charge, it was aspertained that no foundation existed for the assertion.

The bickings for the new loan, if the precedent adopted on the last occasion be followed, will take place on Friday next. The terms in that instance were made known on Monday, the loth of April, and the contract was concluded on the 20th. The price of consois on the day of the contract was exactly the same as that at which they have closed this evening.

With the exception of several operations in Turkish, there was scarcely any business in foreign securities. The six per cents closed yesterday about 94 to 4%, and were negotiated to-day at 92% and 93% for money, and 92%, 98%, 92, and 92% for the account, showing a fall of 1% per cent.

In the foreign exchanges this afternson there was no material alteration, but the rates generally showed a tendency to improvement.

The Bank of France returns, published to-day, are favorable, and partially account for the recent animation on the Bourse. The bullion has increased £500,000, the Treasury balance £305,000, the deposits £90,000, and the notes in circulation £792,000. The discounts have decreased £276,000, and the Bank has shown its confidence with regard to the future by rescinding the resolution not to discount bills having more than 75 days to run, and returning to their former limit of 90 days.

The return from the Bank of England for the week ending the 9th of February gives the following results when compared with the previous week:

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY MARKET. Monday, March 3-6 P. M.

There was a better feeling in the stock market this morning. The improvement in prices was small, and the transactions were not large, but holders have more confidence, and the impression is general that a few weeks will develope an active speculation. At the first board Illinois Central bonds advanced | per cent; Nicaragua Transit, 1; Cumberland, 1; New York Central Railroad, 1; Erie, 4; Reading, 4; Michigan Southern, 4; Galena and Chicago, 4; Cleveland and Toledo, 1; Chicago and Rock Island, 4; Wisconsin Lake Shore, 4. Panama Railroad declined I per cent. One of the firmest stocks on the list to-day was Nicaragua Transit. All the indications in this stock point to higher prices. The sales lately made, seller four months, have been taken by parties who required five per cent deposit in the Trust Company. This looks as though the individual making such sales is likely to get himself into a tight place. The buyers now are the same operators who carried the stock from fourteen up to twenty-five per cent in a few weeks. Cleveland and Toledo sold quite freely at the advance this morning It was the most buoyant stock on the list at the first board. All the Western railroad stocks were in demand at better prices. There are some choice investments in the new well located railroads of the West, and the early purchasers secure all the the foreign trade of this port last month was comparatively of an unfavorable character. The imports this year show an increase of about $4,000,000, while the exports show an increase of only about $120,000. The exports this year have been of a more gratifying description, being a greater value in merchandise and less in specie. The shipments of specie were nearly one million dollars less than in the same month last year.

The Grocers' Fire Insurance Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of eight per cent. The Corn Exchange Fire Insurance Company six per cent.

Bys:—

Bysices in American securities in London, which was very dull in the earlier part of the week, has greatly revived since the arrival of the three last packets from New York, especially as a semi-official contradiction is given in the Washington Union to the reports of the desire of the Fresident to embarrass the relations of the two countries. We note a strong demand for Hilmois Geostruction bonds at high rates, with a good inquiry for Eric Third Mortgage and Sinking Fund bonds and for Michigan Central and New York Central bonds. We also note small tratsactions in Pennsylvania Central and Ohio and Pennsylvania Income bonds at previous rates.

Prices from New York, per Baltic, had not advanced to so high a point as was anticipated would be the case when the intelligence of the bond Ails character of the peace negotiations should be received; for we note, as a consequence, that although a larger amount of business has been transacted since her manyl, the muotations have not materially advanced on this side. The market is rather bare of first class bonds.

The very satisfactory nature of the half yearly accounts received from the Reading, Michigan Central, New York Central and other leading railroads, and the punctual payment of the coupons on the various loans, has produced a very salutary effect upon the holders of American securities. The nonpayment of the interest on the eastern section of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad has done great injury to the introduction of bonds of unfinished roads.

All doubts respecting the intention of the British government to resort to another loan were set at rest by the publication, on the London Stock Ex change, on the 15th of February, of the following communication from the Chancellor of the Exche communication from the Chancellor of the Exchequer:—

Downing Street, Thursday Evening.

Gentlemen—I request that you will make it known in the usual manner that, on Monday next, the 18th inst, at one o'clock, Lord Palmerston and I will be ready to see any gentleman who will be willing to contract for a loan for the public service, in order that we may a lord them information as to the amount of the loan, and the time and manner of bidding. Lord Palmerston and I will, at the same time, communicate to the gentlemen present the conditions upon which we shall be prepared to receive offers for funding a portion of the Exchequer bills now outstanding. I hope it will be convenient to you to meet those gentlemen, at the Treasury, at the nour named.

The last returns, compared with those of the previous week, show the following variations in the aggregates:-

The expansion of discounts is going on full as fast as anticipated. The aggregate amount in the de-partment is now larger than ever before known in this city. It is about one and a half millions in excess of any previous report. Notwithstanding this increase, the movement on actual capital is considerably less than it was in August, 1855. We are somewhat disappointed in the specie returns. It was the general impression that with the receipts from California the banks would show a small increase. The deposits have reached a very high point. The banks are extending themselves at a rate rapid enough for all ordinary purposes. The spring trade has hardly commenced yet, and the banks should not let out rope too fast.
